According to a recent Google study 65% of Mobile App Gamers are Women while only 25% of the developers, designers, and creators are women.

Change the game and participate in this year's global challenge.

Girls for a change.

Every year, Technovation invites teams of girls from all over the world to learn and apply the skills needed to solve real-world problems through technology.

Be a part of the community.

TECHNOLOGY ENTREPRENEURSHIP LED BY GIRLS

Every year, Technovation challenges girls all over the world to build a mobile app that will address a community problem.
